

If you attended my lecture “Putting it All Together,” my extensive use of tables for organization, analysis and citation were surprisingly very popular.

Because of that, I am making available for purchase 15 tables that I used while researching my enslaved and free black ancestors. They require Microsoft Word and were created on a Windows PC.

They can be purchased for $20 at the link below:

It is my hope that these prove as useful to you as they have been for me in better understanding the records that document our ancestor's lives. The tables in this collection are:

- 1) Timeline of Slaveownership
- 2) Inventory of Enslaved Persons
- 3) Tracking Enslavers Through Court Records
- 4) Tracking Enslaved Persons Through Tax Records
- 5) Tracking Enslaved Persons Through Deed Records
- 6) Tracking Enslaved Persons Through Probate Records
- 7) Distribution of Enslaved Persons
- 8) 1870 Census: Looking for Prospective Enslavers
- 9) 1850 Slave Schedule: Looking for Prospective Enslavers
- 10) 1860 Slave Schedule: Looking for Prospective Enslavers
- 11) Tracking Free Black Families
- 12) Tracking [ancestor's name] in Slavery and After Emancipation
- 13) 1865-1900 Timeline of Reconstruction and Redemption Records
- 14) Table for Social and Historical Research
- 15) The 1870 Census Community
