Thanks for visiting Reclaiming Kin! I love family history and have created these images to reflect that passion. These are perfect to send to family on all occasions to communicate the message of knowing and valuing our roots. These images are also a great way to keep the message alive for younger generations.

USING THESE IMAGES

Here are some ideas for how to use them:

- for family reunions as designs on flyers, menus, invitations
- on social media posts
- email to family to celebrate an ancestor's birthday
- stickers
- custom note cards

I have had these images printed as stickers and as note cards from third party websites, such as Vistaprint.com, Shutterfly.com, and Moo.com.

My family members love to receive the stickers on the back of birthday cards, or the note cards on any occasion. I am sure you can think of even more ways to use these images.

If you plan to print more than one image, I highly recommend using a third-party print site, such as the ones I name above. The color in these cards will quickly exhaust your ink at home. You will also need A4 sized envelopes (4 ¼ x 6 ¼), available at craft stores.

You will need Adobe Reader installed on your computer to view PDF files on your computer (they are the same as shown here). It is freely available for installation at <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>.

FILES YOU WILL RECEIVE (high resolution, 300 DPI)

*1 4"x6" JPEG file of the image

*1 8.5" x 11.5" size .JPEG template with image embedded

*1 PDF of instructions for use
